"Well now, boys, let me tell you about Chief Spotted Horse. I'm telling ya, he was a real MAN. Once he was riding . . ." And so another tale is spun as a group sits around the flickering campfire under the clear, starlit sky in the quiet of a Wyoming night.

When Wyoming was young, the settlers were harassed by Indians. But the days of the marauding Indian bands have long since passed. Tribes who once inhabited the territory included the Crow, Sioux, Shoshone, Cheyenne, Blackfeet, Flathead, Arapaho, Nez Perces, Kiowa, Ute, and Gros Ventres.

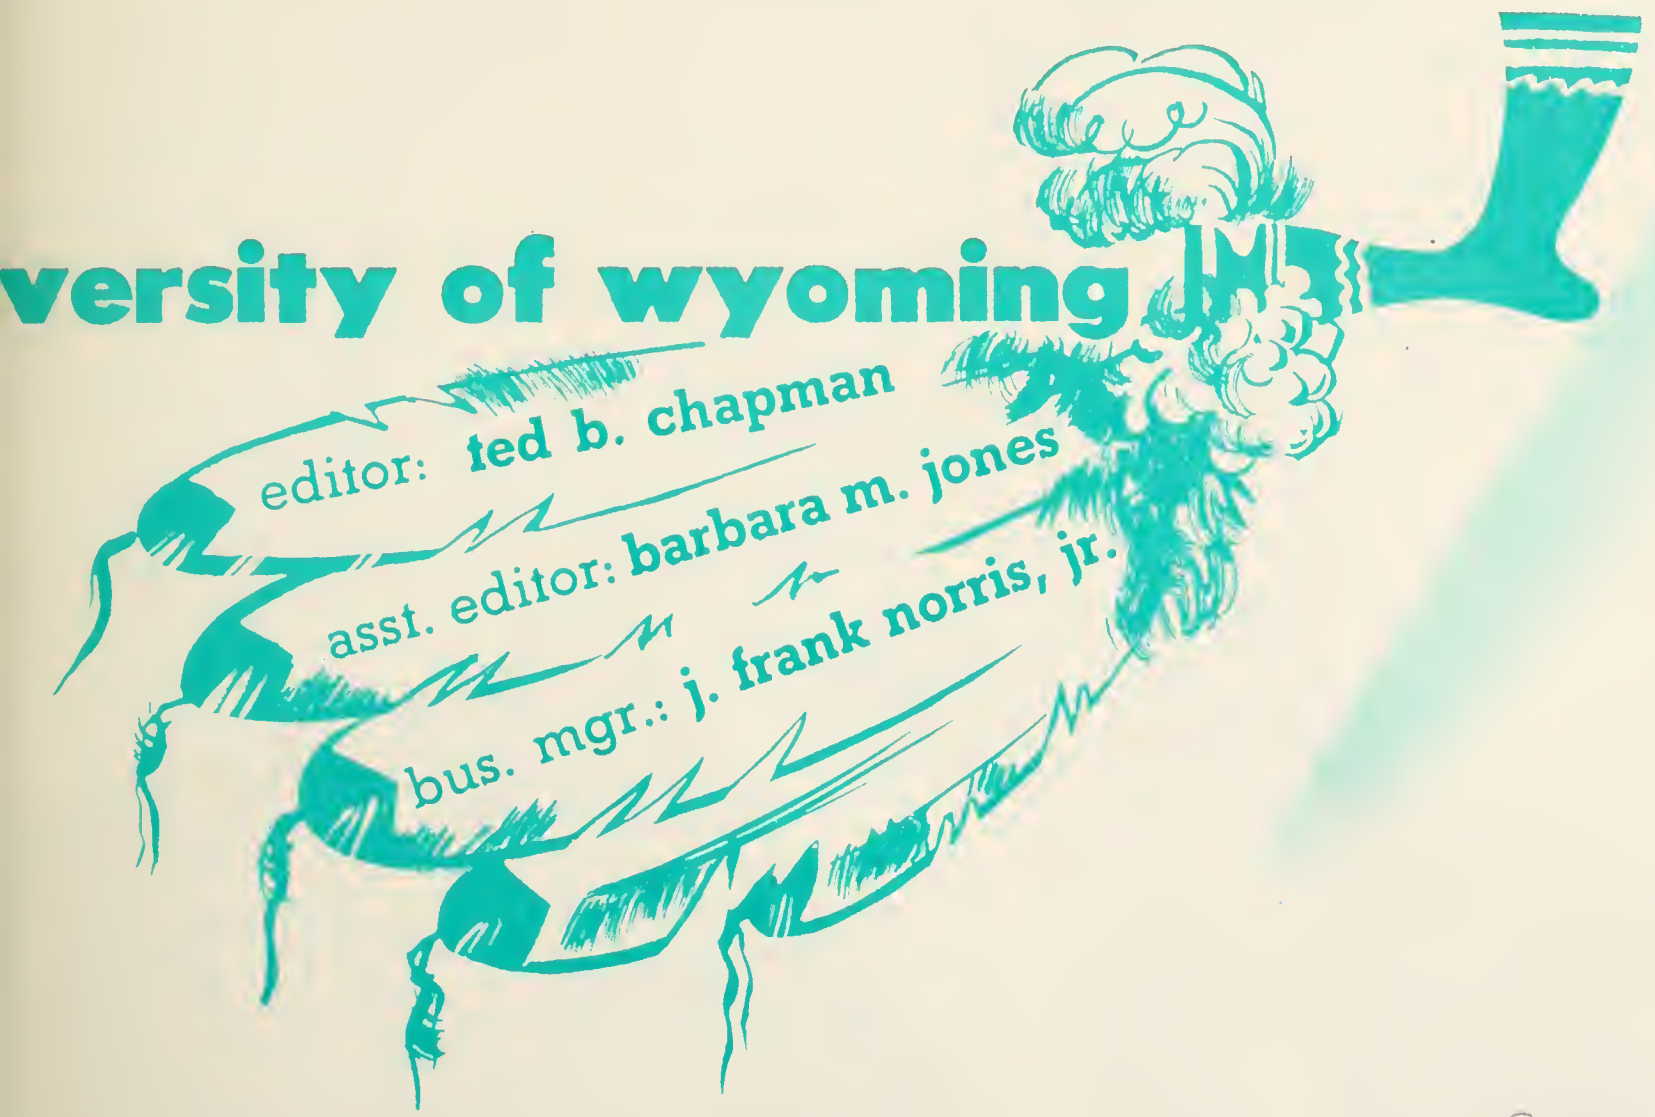
Where once the Redmen had the whole state to roam in, they are now confined to their reservational areas, such as the Shoshones and Arapahoes in central Wyoming. The first have given their name to the reservation, as well as to a town, a river, and a national forest. Washakie County and National Forest are named for a famous Shoshone chief.

Speaking of Indian place names, the state name itself is Indian. Wyoming is a Delaware Indian tribe word, Waumic or Muchuwaumic, meaning "end of plains".

Indian names abound in Wyoming. Many rivers and creeks were named by the Redmen, such as: Wind River, Popo Agie, Yampa, Pasup Creek, Badwater Creek, and Powder River.

Uinta and Niobrara counties are names taken from the Ute language. Meteetse, Ethete, Greybull, Sundance, Tensleep, and Crowheart are examples of towns that have derived their names from Indian origins. Togwotee Pass, Inyan Kara, Plenty Coos Peak, the Tetons, and Squaw Mountain are land features which date back to Indian times.

The days of the Indians are gone, yes, but the memory of the Redmen does not die and the people of the State of Wyoming are indebted to the Indians for helping to shape the history of this great state.



versity of wyoming

"The old covered wagons rolled right along." And when they stopped, they brought settlers into the new territory; settlers who established homes, started businesses, and enforced law and order. Then in 1890 they were rewarded when the territory was admitted as a state . . . the state of Wyoming. The days of the old frontier—days of physical hardships and danger—are gone now, but there are many new challenges to be met in this changing world today. Wyoming has met these challenges and is continuing as "a greater state for a greater people".

New buildings, additions of colleges and departments, reorganization of the athletic department . . . these are but a few of the accomplishments of President George Duke Humphrey since he came here in 1945. Because Humphrey has done so much for the state of Wyoming and in particular for the University of Wyoming, this year's WYO is dedicated to him.

One of the things for which we are most proud of Humphrey is his work with the athletic department, since he modernized it and added more sports. Since he came, Wyoming U. has become a formidable power, having turned out champions in basketball, football, baseball, tennis, swimming, and wrestling. Also, he has added hockey, skiing, and rodeo to the sports offerings, and hopes to build teams of championship calibre in them.

The College of Commerce and Industry and the College of Pharmacy are major expansions of the University. Also, the Division of Adult Education and Community Service, Department of Student Personnel and Guidance, Division of Alumni Relations and Graduate Personnel, and departments of Speech, Journalism, and Range Management and Forestry have been formed through the efforts of Humphrey.

The University is one of the very few in the country that has worked out a set of by-laws and regulations for the faculty and Board of Trustees; which is a major accomplishment to the Prexy's credit. He helped organize the graduate school, developed the Natural Resources Institute, broadened and enlarged the offerings in music and art, and enlarged the budget for research work on the campus.

Humphrey graduated from Tippah County Agricultural High School in Mississippi in 1915. From there he went to Blue Mountain, Miss., where he received his B. A. He went to the University of Chicago for his M. A. and Ohio State University for his Ph. D.

With an eye toward the future Humphrey plans to strengthen the faculty and improve working conditions, put more and more money into research, and have another building program to include a new library, infirmary, and small classroom building. The present building program included a new Agriculture building, Education building, men's dormitory, Bookstore and Arts building, additions to Knight Hall and the Power Plant, and remodeling of Old Main.

Our Prexy came from Mississippi, and with him he brought some of that "Southern hospitality", which mixed right well with the Western friendship and humor. To him we doff our hats in thanks and say, "Best wishes for the future."

Board of Trustees

THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OLD MAIN

LARAMIE, WYOMING

TO THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

The State of Wyoming has provided for its young people an institution of higher learning of which they can well be proud. At your State University you have the opportunity to prepare yourselves not only for the vocation or profession of your choosing but also for the richer, fuller life which all of us desire.

It is true that "education is life," but it is also true that education is preparation for life. Your years here will help you to realize that whatever is ahead for the world, your destiny is in your own hands and that you can be what you determine to be.

Work, patience, good will, wisdom, and faith will give the person who possesses them the answers to most of his problems. But they do not come merely from wishing for them. They become part of you as you do the things day by day that develop them. You will have opportunity at the University of Wyoming to develop those qualities and become the kind of person you want to be.

Sincerely yours,

G. D. HUMPHREY
President

A. G. Crane, Governor, State of Wyoming

Students here have found a true and admirable friend in Dean Galliver. She has met their many and varied problems with logical solutions, a sense of humor and optimistic views for many years. Her job consists of chaperoning to interior decorating and she enjoys it immensely.

A combination of rare understanding and a keen personality has made Dean A. L. Keeney an extremely well-liked faculty member. He has been dean of men at the University for four years and previously served as a member of the Board of Trustees. The Dean is a true, respected friend of every student.

mortar board

Pat Setterburg
President

The highest honor which can be bestowed upon a woman student at the University is to be selected as a member of Mortar Board. This is an all-Senior honorary, one of 82 chapters in the country, which has as its ideals: (1) to promote courage and loyalty and (2) to advance the spirit of service and fellowship between University women.

The members of Mortar Board must maintain a high standard of scholarship, recognize and encourage leadership, and stimulate and develop finer types of college women.

Officers of the local chapter are: president, Pat Setterburg; vice-president, Gracie Chisholm; secretary, Mary Melchar; treasurer, Margaret McCullough; and editor, Norma McCrae.

Each year Mortar Board has a service project, this year's being to write to foreign students to promote better world understanding. Plans are being made to adopt a foreign student and books have been sent to various countries for under-privileged students.

alpha kappa psi

Students who are finding the solutions to problems of business and industry, both in the classroom and out, are those members of Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary for members in the College of Commerce and Industry.

Alpha Kappa Psi was organized in 1934 and at present has forty-eight members on its roster. Bi-monthly meetings are held to acquaint members with present day problems. In order to get a better perspective of the business world of today, various field trips are taken to establishments in the Rocky Mountain region.

Alpha Tau Alpha, honorary for professional teachers in vocational agriculture, is headed this year by Paul Cory. Since its installation in 1949, the organization has sponsored various contests for the Wyoming Future Farmers of America, agriculture club for high-schoolers.

Bi-monthly meetings include improvement programs, pictures, and speakers, as well as recreational features.

Other officers of the club are Joe Mascher, first vice-president; Bob Schliske, second vice-president; Rex Tolman, secretary; and treasurer, Clark Allen.

Have you ever wondered about those fellows with the letters A-Z written on their overalls ? Then, cease your puzzling, as we'll solve your dilemma. They are the proud members of Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honorary. Proud ? Well, you'd be proud, too, if you could be a member of an organization with such high requirements . . . personality plus, strong character, leadership ability, and quarters upon quarters of nothing but the best in grades.

Chancellor of Alpha Zeta, Dick Strom, sees to it that things run smoothly in the group . . . things such as building up a $10,000 trust fund, taking care of the annual student-faculty round table, and finding out who the brightest frosh in agriculture is so they can award him with the Alpha Zeta key.

Elson Wells, censor, helps Dick out, as do Robert Bramlet, treasurer; Richard Nelson, scribe; Donald Meike, chronicler; and Dr. G. H. Starr, sponsor.

The name and memory of the late General Henry (Hap) Arnold will remain forever because of the efforts of air cadets throughout the country. They have formed the Arnold Society of Air Cadets, which was first organized on the campus of the University of Cincinnati in 1947. The group was founded this fall on the Wyoming campus.

The purpose of the Arnold Society is to promote the Air Force and to hold semi-educational meetings each month. The members are responsible for helping and directly sponsoring a group of Air Scouts, an organization similar to the Boy Scouts.

Membership is open to all cadets in advanced air R.O.T.C. Pledges are taken from those basic students who desire to join the advanced corps. Carl E. Nelson heads the cadets as president; Thomas D. Overy, executive officer; Dick Seals, operations officer; Scott Bell, corresponding secretary; and Bill Gibson, secretary. Captain Hugh E. Cronk is faculty advisor.

"I wish my big sis were here!"

In answer to that frequent plea heard around the campus during freshman week is the organization known as the Big Sisters, whose main duty is to help orient freshman girls to their new surroundings.

Big Sisters are chosen each year from applicants who desire to help the "greenies".

This year a tour of the campus was conducted for the new students by the girls. The organization sponsors the Coed Ball, one of the highlights of the winter quarter.

Pat Janssen was chairman of the Big Sisters and Chiyoko Tanaka, secretary, this year.

Those wielders of the palette and brush have organized themselves into a group known as Epsilon Psi, a national art honorary.

These appreciators of the finer things in life find time for many activities, such as coffee hours, art exhibits, all-school dances, the Artists and Models Ball at which the Ideal Model is chosen, and awarding an Honor Book to the outstanding art student of the year.

Burton Kerns is president of the "arteests" with Pat Minick as vice-president and Madeline Petrides as secretary-treasurer.

gamma sigma epsilon

Thomas Pickhardt heads those active fellows — namely, the chemists — who work with the bunsen burners, graduates, flasks, etc. to put out some of the stinkiest messes (to us, anyway) that can be conceived.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon is the name of the honorary, and we do mean "honor", as one must have an average of 1.65, or better, to be a member.

Each year the group has a picnic in the tall, and is in charge of the candy machine in the Geology Building — wonder if they concoct their own variety of sweets?

Other officers of the group are: Virginia Grandy, secretary; Andrew Long, sergeant of arms; L. E. Walters, treasurer. Walters is also the advisor of the group and is state chemist.

"The red and green eyes of Iron Skull are upon you." This slogan helps members of the honorary junior fraternity remember their duties to be of service to the University and to promote school spirit.

One of the outstanding events of the fall quarter is sponsored by this organization — that is, the Homecoming Sing. Each year cups are awarded to the winners in three categories: independent, sorority and fraternity.

In conjunction with the rest of their Homecoming activities, the Iron Skull Skid is held by the group following the Sing.

Tom Hannum heads the group this year with assistance from Miriam Pietala, vice-president; Lois Mottonen, secretary; Donna McArthur, treasurer; and Frank Blagg, senator.

This year the ever-active Iron Skull began sponsoring the March of Dimes dance held in January.

If you are a student of engineering, the American Society of Electrical Engineers invites you to join their organization. The field of the organization has been widened this year as it was joined by the Institute of Radio Engineers.

The A.I.E.E., a branch of a national professional society, is concerned with aiding engineers in their work and to acquaint the group with the problems that arise in the field of radio and electrical engineering. During the year they take part in several inspection trips and invite speakers of the profession to attend meetings.

Who are all those funny-looking characters walking around with derbies on their heads? Why, they are just the members of the Potter Law Club.

The club, named after Charles N. Potter, Wyoming Supreme Court member and jurist, is composed of those energetic law students who study day and night.

The lawyers play an important role in the annual Homecoming celebration. The election of the Homecoming queen is kept strictly legitimate by the club members and a "ballot-box stuffer" doesn't have a chance with these men in control.

This year the lawyers were outsmarted by the engineering students and did not have the honor of displaying the Queen on their float. "Just wait until next year", say the black-derbied fellows.

The club is not a professional group, but its members are students who are interested in all kinds of outdoor sports and are intent on being better athletes.

Chuck Pugh climbs high

All in all, the members of the Outing Club seem to have a mighty fine time, even though few members finish the year's activities unscathed. The club sponsors a three-day Winter Carnival each year. The year's activities also include the Snow Ball, banquets, and an Intra-School ski meet.

Outing Club officers are: Dick Pollitz, president; Johnnie Chapman, vice - president; Marilyn Wiederanders, secretary; Swede Lofgren, membership chairman; Bud Skinner, public relations chairman; and Keith Topham, publicity chairman.

wildlife conservation club

Hey, you ! Are you in the know with the doe ? You boys who like to lead "wild-lives" ought to be interested in the Wild Life Conservation Club. Here's a chance to go back to the woods and join our four-footed friends in their fight against that awful animal — MAN.

The Wild Life Conservation Club has been organized since 1946 and is open to all majors in the professional curriculum of wildlife management.

Kenneth R. John is president of the club; Max Stock, vice-president; Jerry Moore, secretary; and Art Tanner, treas.

The club sponsors the turkey shoot in the fall and in the spring holds the fly and bait casting contest.

Meetings consist of speeches, discussions, and movies on wildlife conservation.

Sergeant Boley and Sergeant Trout

Tech. Sgt. George Boley and his assistant, Sgt. Trout, have their hands full coaching five rifle teams—the Varsity, Women's, Freshmen, Air R.O.T.C., and the R.O.T.C. Nevertheless, they are doing a terrific job.

George Early was an All-American rifleman last year, and Sgt. Boley is confident that he will have another All-American this year. Skill, coordination, and steady nerves make rifle marksmanship one of the highest accomplishments to be achieved. It is rapidly becoming a favorite among participants' sports.

The varsity team plans at least ten trips this year and the Women's team is scheduled for two or three. The University has a right to be proud of the showings which the various teams make at the rifle matches.

Preparation for national defense is the primary function of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. The University of Wyoming R.O.T.C. unit was reactivated following World War II and has consistently been rated as one of the best in the nation.

In order to graduate from the University, each qualified male student must complete two years of basic military instruction in the unit.

Each member tends to be a better, more useful citizen after completing his two years in the Corps. And the military training will be invaluable in the event he is ever called into active military service.

Look Your Best. Be Friendly. But Don't Go Too Far. These are three of many rules that guide and protect the women students during their stay at the University. Active since 1920, the A.W.S. has maintained a leading role on the campus. As a self-governing organization, its purpose is to aid all women students and make their life more pleasant by cultivating cultural interests, emphasizing scholastic attainment, and presenting the opportunity to enter into campus activities.

Many honoraries have been sponsored by the A.W.S., such as Big Sisters, Spurs, and a Mortar Board Chapter. The A.W.S. Board is represented by one student from each of the womens' organizations on the campus.

Functions during the year include mass meetings, teas, a costume ball, and a formal dance.

Officers of the 1949-1950 Board are Mary Melchar, president; Ruth Carlson, vice-president, Norma Johnson, secretary, Nancy Edwards, treasurer.

canterbury club

Sponsoring mission groups throughout the state in the Episcopalian diocese is the main project of this year's Canterbury Club, student organization for Episcopal Church members.

Bob Melin heads this year's club as president and Kenneth Davis is vice-president. Other officers are: Joann Small, secretary; Edward Robinson, treasurer; and Carol Milliken and Samuel Hirasawa, representatives to the Student Council of Religious Organizations.

This year a coffee hour at 12:00 on Sundays was started, which gave students an opportunity to have informal discussion groups. The club room at the Canterbury house is open at all time for use by members of the organization.

newman club

The Newman Club, Catholic organization for the University of Wyoming students, is headed this year by Lila Fern Bramwell.

Other officers are: Pat Madigan, vice president; Orion Lorenzi, treasurer; and Mary Yvonne Evans, secretary. Beatrice Taylor and Carol Trusheim served as co-chairmen of the social committee this year.

Every Friday night the Club holds open house and communion breakfasts and social meetings are held every month. Main events of the year include the province meetings held each quarter with members from Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming chapters being represented. This year the province convention was held in Denver during the Spring quarter.

Donald Wallace
President

The Roger Williams Club has had an especially active year under the leadership of Donald Wallace as president. The first project undertaken was the redecoration of the club-rooms and the devotional center.

Deputation groups, consisting of six members, were sent to various churches throughout the state to hold services. Also members raised the money to send two delegates to the Baptist Student Conference at Kalamazoo, Michigan, during the Fall quarter.

Besides these projects the group meets every Sunday for a supper and fellowship, which includes panel speakers and discussions. And each month a party is held.

Other officers assisting in the direction of the organization are Charlotte Williamson, vice-president; Lillian Follum, treasurer; and Don Thompson, secretary.

wesley foundation

One family in Laramie will always be thankful to the Wesley Foundation, Methodist young peoples' group. The Wesley Club was instrumental in bringing a displaced family here and seeing to it that there was a completely furnished house waiting for them.

The Wesley Club has been one of the most active groups on the campus through the efforts of president Wayne Anderson. Aiding him this year were vice-president, Mary McCauley; secretary, Viola Jones; and treasurer, Dale Federer.

Apart from the regular group is the Golden Circle, which is for married students and is headed by Mrs. Mary Kay Holden.

"w" club

Have you won your letter in some varsity sport yet? If so, then you are eligible for membership in the "W" club, campus athletic organization.

The emblem of the club is a belt buckle, which was recently changed from a pearl "W" pin, because of confusion with frat pins.

One good thing about being a "W" member is that for five years after graduation, you are given a free seat to the games of the sport in which you lettered and first choice of reserved seats in all other sports.

Carl Rollins is president of the club; Ray Haskins, vice president; and Jim Nolan, secretary-treasurer. Bob Beckett and Keith Bloom are executive board members.

With the entire state of Wyoming as their "stomping ground", the Ceratopsians find great sport in picking and shoveling the rocky soil in search of petrified Crustaceans and ancient rocks.

When these geology majors commune with Nature, they take picks instead of Pabst, shovels instead of Schlitz, and boots instead of Budweiser. They also find time to turn out prize-winning floats for the Homecoming parade, as they have done for the past three years.

independents

Once the most powerful group on the campus, the Independents have sunk to a minor position as far as politics and contests are concerned.

But they still have their fun! Every Monday night there is a dance, movie, or party, and a picnic in the spring. AIS participates in various sports; and the group manages the the second-hand bookstore, handled by Frank Rogers.

Officers of the group are: president, Bill Eckerdt; secretary, Mary Ann Read; corresponding secretary, Laverne Claire; and treasurer, Ethel Eckerdt.

inter-fraternity council

Striving for cooperation rather than competition among the frats, is the powerful Inter-Fraternity Council.

These Greek men formulate policies and laws for all fraternities of the University. This council is composed of two representatives from each frat that has been on the campus for one year or longer.

Inter-Frat regulates such things as rushing and requirements for initiation, and helps smooth the functioning of other things which concern the Greek men.

During the Spring quarter, the one dance sponsored by the group is held — the Inter-Fraternity Ball. At this dance the Greek Sweetheart and the Most Ugly Man on the campus are selected.

pan hellenic

Working on policies to help rushees during rush week is the main function of the two Pan-Hellenic Councils.

The Senior "Pan-Hel" members are girls who know enough about campus ways and means to be wise in formulation of rushing rules.

The Junior Pan-Hellenic are underclasswomen who will work up to membership in the senior group.

Two representatives from each of the six sororities are chosen by the "sisters" to serve on the council.

Over on Grand Avenue there is a stucco house with lotza girls living (?) there. These girls, sporting the "sacred lyre of angels", are the Alpha Chi Omegas.

The Alph Chis are known for their Spring slumber party, given in honor of their pledges and new initiates at Libby Lodge, where they take off for the hills, formals and all. This, we hear, is to release those pent-up feelings acquired during the hard months of cold winter nights spent in town.

Beta Kappa chapter of Alpha Chi Omega was inducted into the student life of this University in 1930 and the national organization was founded in 1885.

All the girls wear their LYRE with pride, but among the "Wheels" (and there are plenty) we mention: Pat Setterburg, president of Mortar Board and member of Phi Beta Kappa and Psi Chi; Anna Hansen, Senate secretary and prexy of Phi Upsilon Omicron; Mildred Berry, president of Home Ec Club; Iron Skullers, Margene Johnson and Anna Hansen; and Betty Wolfe, Dedi Pence, and Rae Forman, Spur representatives.

Last, but not least, is Hilda Herrmann, a German student, whom the Alpha Chis are sponsoring this year. She has already acquired membership in Red Pencil and the Cosmopolitan Club.

Fifty-one girls bow down to Chi Omega to honor their seventeen-year-old chapter with their beauty, brains and talent.

A bunch of outstanding girls live down there on Grand Avenue . . . like Margaret McCullough and Norma McRae on Mortar Board; Lois Mottonen and Miriam Pietala, senators and Iron Skull members; Barbara Coutts and Stella Gergle, Spurs; Donna Rae Young, Engineer's Queen; Shirley Currie, student affilliate of the American Chemistry Society; Janet Lynch and Theo Vozakis in dramatics and art honoraries, respectively. And then Janet won the hog-calling contest in the Little International this year. Wonder if she practiced on her sister members ?

Norma is also a "Who's Who"-er and Gloria Sebastian deserves mention for her piano playing for various campus activities.

This year those gals sang their hearts out and won first place in the Homecoming Sing . . . another trophy for their shelf.

Since it was founded in 1933, the Wyoming chapter has become known for its friendly girls, as well as for its scholarly achievements. The main social event of the Chi O year is the winter formal.

The big white house on the corner of Fraternity Park is the scene of many a gala party, the home of many a campus beauty, and, to make the list complete, the place where the gals think a brain is a nice accessory.

This is the house of the Theta Eta chapter of Delta Delta Delta, which was installed on the Wyoming campus in 1913. Mary Melchar stands out in this group of friendly girls. She made "Who's Who" this year, Mortar Board, and is president of A.W.S. Other active Tri Delts are: Joan Smith, president of Pan Hellenic and an Iron Skuller, along with Marietta Trowbridge.

Bev Pettibone carries the beauty with her record of being Homecoming Queen attendant; Wanda Daley, active journalist is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon; and Molly Leaver was chosen as the most popular gal on the Cowboy campus last year.

The girls are artistic, too. They copped the first prize for the most beautiful float in the Homecoming parade this year.

Highlights of the Tri Delt social year is the winter formal and the Pearl dinner dance.

Gosh! How the girls love their house. They say its ideally located and the windows . . . how popular they are; especially around 10:30 each night.

Kappa Delta was founded nationally October 23, 1897, at a small college in Farmville, Virginia. Wyoming RHO was granted its charter in 1914 and since then the K. D.'s have made their home at 605 Grand.

There's a lively bunch of gals in this chapter . . . Pat Janssen, for instance, president of Big Sisters . . . Jay Annala, W.A.A. president . . . half the publications staff — Dedi Sardini, Unquote editor and desk editor of the Branding Iron . . . Gloria Canestrini, the B. I.'s society editor, and Shirley Day, business manager of the paper.

Mary Mortensen, Spur president . . . Alberta Smith, Phi Gamma Nu president and head usher . . . Phyllis Murray, vice-president of Home Ec. club . . . Rita Jean Phillips, secretary of Pan-Hel council.

And then we have Mary Grace Chisholm who made WHO's WHO this year and who is also on Mortar Board . . . Virgil Rizzi's a cheerleader and was an attendant at the Engineer's ball. Hortense Burton was queen of the Gold and Green ball.

The K. D.'s have two dances during the year, a pledge dance and then one in the Spring. They also give a yearly welfare party at Christmas time for orphaned children.

The little child they've adopted in Belgium has luckily acquired forty-five "mothers".

They placed second in house decorations for Homecoming this year and the K. D.'s rank as one of the top teams in all sports.

The girls who wear the golden key do not have to look forward to the "mansions in Heaven waiting for them". The K. K. G. girls live in a mansion already.

The Gamma Omicron chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was installed on the University of Wyoming campus in 1927.

There are many outstanding students among the Kappas . . . Senators, Who's Who nominees, and beauty queens galore.

Some of these celebrities are Charlotte Wallace, Senator and Who's Who nominee; Cindy Clark, Homecoming Queen; Joy Vandehei, Miss Frontier for 1950; Norma Bell, last year's Miss Frontier; and Dorothy Bain, outstanding actress.

Other Kappas who have achieved a measure of glory and honor within the sacred halls of Wyoming U. are: Bev McClintock, Pat Seeburg, and Barbara Baker, who are members of the Spurs honorary; Nan Vicars and Pat Dineen, members of Iron Skull; Joyce Tate, Dorothy Bain, and Sally Hartwig, who are members of the Dramatics Honorary.

Each year the Kappas sponsor a Winter formal and a Spring Costume Ball.

The K. K. G.'s were awarded the Scholarship Cup for 1949.

Among the notable of the Pi Phis are M. J. The Wyoming chapter was installed in 1910 and was the first sorority on the campus.

varsity villagers

Since their organization in 1929, the Varsity Villagers have maintained their reputation of being one of the more active groups on the campus.

They are forever busy carrying out their program of parties, picnics, dances and athletic events.

Varsity Villagers is an organization for girls who live in town, but who participate in all campus honoraries, such as Spurs and Iron Skull, as well as being represented in the Associated Women's Club and the W. A. A.

Their pin is worn with pride in the knowledge that this emblem represents years of tradition on the university campus, since the founding of this group many long years ago.

Mrs. Alex Johnston is sponsor of this very lively organization. Some of the members that claim fame here, and elsewhere too, are: Mary McAuley and Betty Ray, Spurs; Edith Rennick, Iron Skull; and Miriam Renshaw, active in the University theatre.

lambda delta sigma

You guys and gals who like to be in mixed groups should try the Lambda Delta Sigma for size. L.D.S. is more fortunate than most fraternities and sororities in that it combines both male and female students into one organization.

At the corner of 12th and Grand stands the pride and joy of L. D. S.-ers — their Institute. This is a house full of the spirit of fellowship and brotherhood. The brotherhood phase is especially popular, as it combines the Alpha, or fraternity chapter, with that of the Omega, or sorority chapter.

These two groups combine to form one of the most unbeatable combinations on the campus — in sports, activities and scholarship.

The organization is especially proud of its athletic program. The teams are so good that they play university competition instead of wasting their time with frats.

L. D. S. was organized at the University of Utah in the school year of 1936-37. Students felt the need for fellowship with one another and for an organization that could express the attitudes and ideals of the Mormon young people. The Wyoming chapter was founded in November, 1937, and has been one of the strongest groups on the campus since.

To prove this point, take a look at the Homecoming record of L. D. S. this year. It won first place in the Homecoming sing among the independent groups and took first place for its house decoration in the most humorous class.

Although a new fraternity, the Acacias have already contributed their share to the campus "great", to say nothing of their scholastic achievements. They won the Inter-Fraternity Council scholarship cup last year for the highest grade average.

Acacia is based on Masonic ties, and is the only fraternity not designated by Greek letters. It was installed at the University of Wyoming in April, 1947.

Acacia has placed men in almost every honorary society in the school and in every field of fraternal endeavor they are near the top.

On the social side the Acacia sponsors, in the the winter quarter, the Twin-Twirl and the Anniversary Ball during Spring quarter. During the Fall they have a Pledge dance.

Gamma Psi of Alpha Tau Omega has the distinctive honor of being the first national fraternity at the U. of Wyoming. It was organized in 1913, and since then has been one of the more active fraternities on the compus. The main event of the year is the Bowery Ball.

Hardly a year passes without the Taus adding to their record of achievement in athletics and scholarship. Outstanding this year are Chuck Greenbaum, Who's Who; Cal Queal, editor of the Branding Iron and Who's Who; and Kirk Fraser, B. I. sports editor. Other active members are Howard Walgren, Edwin Dobner and Don Piehl, playing varsity hockey, and Dick Rittersporn, baseball.

During the summer the Taus moved to a new house on Ivinson avenue where they have more room to stretch out.

phi delta theta

Homecoming this year found the Phi Delta Theta fraternity really "on the ball". The boys won first place in the Homecoming sing, first place for the most beautiful house, and second place for the most beautiful float.

Besides this the Phi Delts are ever active in sports and have several traditional social events. These are the hayride in the Fall quarter, the masquerade ball in the winter quarter, and a formal dance in the Spring.

Jack Winninger and Ralph Updegraff head the group in honors this year by being selected for membership in Who's Who. Ralph is also business manager of A.S.U.W.

Other outstanding members that the fraternity boasts are: Dick Gose, president of the Engineering society; Roger Runge, head of Alpha Kappa Psi; Robert Creager, sports editor for this year's WYO; and athletes, Fred Taucher and Pearley Wells. Pearley was voted as the most popular boy on the campus last year.

Phi Delta Theta started out as one of the inter-triad of fraternities founded at Miama University of Oxford, Ohio, in 1848. It was founded in 1934 on the Wyoming campus and is one of 112 chapters throughout the country.

Last year the Phi Delts won the Founders' Day trophy in competition with other chapters in Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah. This was given to the group which had the best record in scholarship, athletics, finances, standing on the campus, activity of members, and which contributed the most improvement to the school throughout the year

sigma alpha epsilon

The Wyoming chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is located in that big white house on Tenth Street where, reliable sources inform me, there is never a dull moment.

The Sig Alphs boast a well-stocked trophy case, and well they should, for most of the "bearded men" are athletes of outstanding calibre. Leroy Pearce, Vern Gale, Sonny Jones, Oris Chamberlain, George Goble, Ivan Jones, Royal McMullen, Carl Sandstrom, Jack Troseth, and the Storey boys are just a few of the members of the "Tenth Street Athletic Club".

The S. A. E.'s first appeared on the University of Wyoming campus as the local Sigma Beta Phi which went national as Sigma Alpha Epsilon in 1917.

They promise to be around for a good many years to come, bedecked in chin whiskers and Scottish kilts.

The big social event of the year for the Sig Alphs is the Bushmen's Hop, when the members harken back to the good old days when whiskers were in style.

Homecoming is the time of year when the S. A. E.'s really shine, for it is then that the famed Kilty Band makes its annual appearance. It may not be the sweetest music this side of the Mississippi, but it has spirit !

In the Fall of 1930, a chapter of Sigma Chi was established on the University of Wyoming campus. Since then, the Sigma Chis have grown into one of the leading fraternities, and have contributed greatly toward the betterment and development of the University.

Each Fall the Sig Chis don three cornered pants and play host for the Baby Bawl. In the Spring they sponsor another costume affair, the Pirate Dance. Winter is the time for the well-known Sweetheart Dance. At this famed gathering, the girl is crowned "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi", as the song says.

But the Sigma Chis are not only noted for their social functions. Each year they present a scholarship to some worthy high school graduate in Wyoming.

This year the Sigma Chis won first prize for the most original float in the Homecoming parade. They also took top honors in the Philip Morris contest held during Fall quarter.

Prominent Sigma Chi members include Neal Bate, president of the fraternity and Who's Who member; Earl Babcock, Iron Skull representative and active in the R.O.T.C.; Loy Doty, top-notch basketball player; Bob McFarlane, outstanding baseball player; and Bert Johnston, Iron Skull representative.

Wyoming University welcomes Phi Kappa colony, which was organized this Fall on the campus.

It is presently in its colony status; however, through the ardent efforts of its members it should be able to become a charter organization at the end of the school year.

Phi Kappa is a social fraternity of Catholic men chartered to promote social and intellectual relationships among its members and to cultivate a spirit of loyalty to their "Alma Mater".

In 1892 the Phi Kapps were founded at Brown University and are a member of the National Inter-fraternity Congress. Since that time, the fraternity has grown to over forty colonies and chapters throughout the country.

Social functions of the year include the Christmas formal, the Founders' Day Ball, and the Saint Pat's party — the big event of the year.

For years, the Democratic party has produced our national presidents. On the University of Wyoming campus, the Sigma Nu fraternity produces the class officers and senators.

Beside these celebrities, this fraternity boasts more presidents of honorary groups, senators, and athletes than you could shake a stick at. Some of the Sigma Nus are listed in this year's Who's Who, namely, Bruce Jensen, University actor, and Don Hunton, Phi Beta Kappa, Senator, and President of the Pre-Medical honorary. Some of the athletes belonging to this frat are Bruce Badley, Swede Lofgren, Jim Nolan, Selmer Pederson, and Carl and Hardy Rollins. Carl was also a member of this year's Who's Who.

Social events which the Snakes sponsor annually are the Winter Quarter Formal and the Chanticleer, which begins in the wee hours of the morning and continues throughout the day.

sigma phi epsilon

The Wyoming chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was installed on the campus in 1943 and in these seven years has consistently been a live-wire fraternity.

Some of the men who help make the SPE's a fraternity to look up to on the campus are Don Babbitt, junior class senator and member of the Union Management Committee and Henry Barlow, senior class senator and vice-president of A.S.U.W. Hank is also a member of this year's Who's Who.

Ted Chapman, editor of this year's WYO, is also listed in Who's Who. Other prominent journalists are Frank Norris, business manager of the WYO, and Russ Patterson, sorority and fraternity editor of this volume.

Dale Chamberlain is one of the campus's band leaders; Gerald Henning is president of the International Relations Club; Gordon Hughes is former president of the Engineering Club; John McLellan is coach of the University ski team; and Lyle Sylte, as a student at large, belongs to the Union Management Committee.

The Sig Eps won first prize for the most original Homecoming house decoration this year, won the varsity show last Spring, and has been praised highly for its fine German band.

The Queen of Hearts Ball, held in the Spring quarter is the main event on the Sig Ep social calendar.

Even the SPE house stands for uniqueness, in that it is the only fraternity house along side of three sorority houses in Fraternity Park. Ah, me. Lucky guys !

Hey, Ted:-

Next time give me an easy job! Trying to pick a beauty queen from such a large group of beauties is too tough a task to piece on any one man's shoulders! There are a dozen or more girls among those whose photos you sent who could qualify as a queen in anybody's contest, and to try to select one who should reign over the others is a decision for a Solomon rather than a Parks.

However, I know you have me at your complete mercy, so I stick my tender neck out thus:

For beauty queen, No. 4.

For firet runner up, No.13.

For second runner up, No.20.

Please, for me, tell all the other girls that this wes really one of the toughest jobs of my career, s'help me Jolson. And a job that a guy shouldn't attempt more than once every century.

Hope your 1950 Wyo is a smash success.

"There are exactly 307 steps from the Liberal Arts building to the south entrance of the Library."

This and other interesting tidbits are featured in the Branding Iron, campus newspaper, along with the news.

University students and faculty look forward with great anticipation to Thursday morning each week. For this day brings the B. I., which means a chance to gripe at the "irresponsible college press."

This year's B. I. is better than ever, with Cal Queal as editor. One of Cal's policy changes has been to stock the newspaper with more and better pictures.

In the last edition of the Branding Iron this year, something new will be featured. This is the selection of the University's "Top Hand", chosen by the editor and his assistants. The honor will go to the student or instructor who has done the most for the betterment of the University during the school year.

Unquote is dead ! !

After the funeral and proper respect was paid to Unquote, a new and better-liked campus humor magazine sprung from the ashes. This was the Snipe.

The Snipe staff, under the editorship of Dedie Sardini, tenderly nursed the first few issues along and soon it grew to be big and robust.

Differing from Unquote, the "literary" magazine, Snipe's humor is in solid with the student body — what is called "typical college humor." And now the campus magazine is a sell-out every issue, instead of turning yellow with age on the news stands.

If you happen to forget that certain phone number, may we refer you to the Student Directory. This book lists all the students enrolled in the University . . . it's a must for every active person on the campus. (Even if you're not so active.) Bev Carroll and Mary Breslin spent hours checking and rechecking to compile lists for this very helpful publication . . . which was no small task.

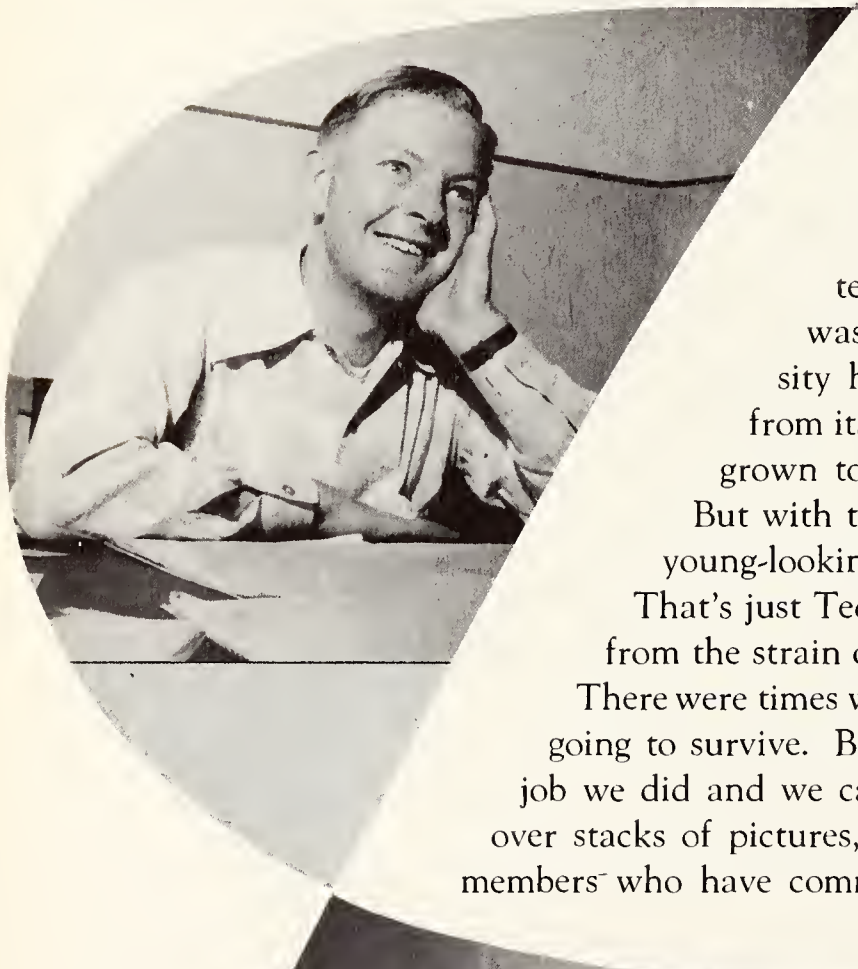
WYO



Once upon a time there was a little book. Everyone liked the book, and it became so proud of itself, it grew a little bit. Then the War came. No one had much time to pay attention to the book; and it shrunk in size and was put out as a magazine. But now, the University has grown and everyone wants the book. So from its humble beginnings, the WYO has grown and grown to its present size.

But with the size has come many problems. If you see a young-looking fellow with gray hair, don't be surprised. That's just Ted Chapman, this year's WYO editor, suffering from the strain of the job.

There were times when Ted and the rest of us thought we weren't going to survive. But now that it's out, we can feel proud of the job we did and we can get into the office without having to jump over stacks of pictures, copy paper, coffee cups, cigarettes, and staff members who have committed suicide. Oh, joy! The WYO's out!

Biggs received an A. B. in 1926 from Drury College, Springfield, Mo.; M. A. from Washington University in St. Louis in 1927; and M. S. in 1942 from Northwestern U. in Chicago.

Our first home-game of the season . . . the season that brought Wyoming its first Conference Crown, was with Montana State. Before some 6,000 fans, the Cowpokes routed Montana to the tune of 48 to 0. Sonny Jones and Eddie Talboom, the Cowboys' touchdown twins, sparked the major portion of Wyoming's attack, with Talboom booting six out of seven extra points. The first score came in on a sustained drive of 70 yards in the first quarter. The second quarter went scoreless, but Selmer Pederson started the fireworks in the third quarter by returning a Bobcat punt 77 yds. for the second touchdown.

Coach Bowden Wyatt

Hailing from Kingsport, Tennessee, Coach Bowden Wyatt came to the University of Wyoming three years ago to take charge of the Cowpokes. Under his expert coaching this year, we not only captured our first Conference Crown, but also scalped the Utah Redskins for the first time in history. Orchids to Wyatt.

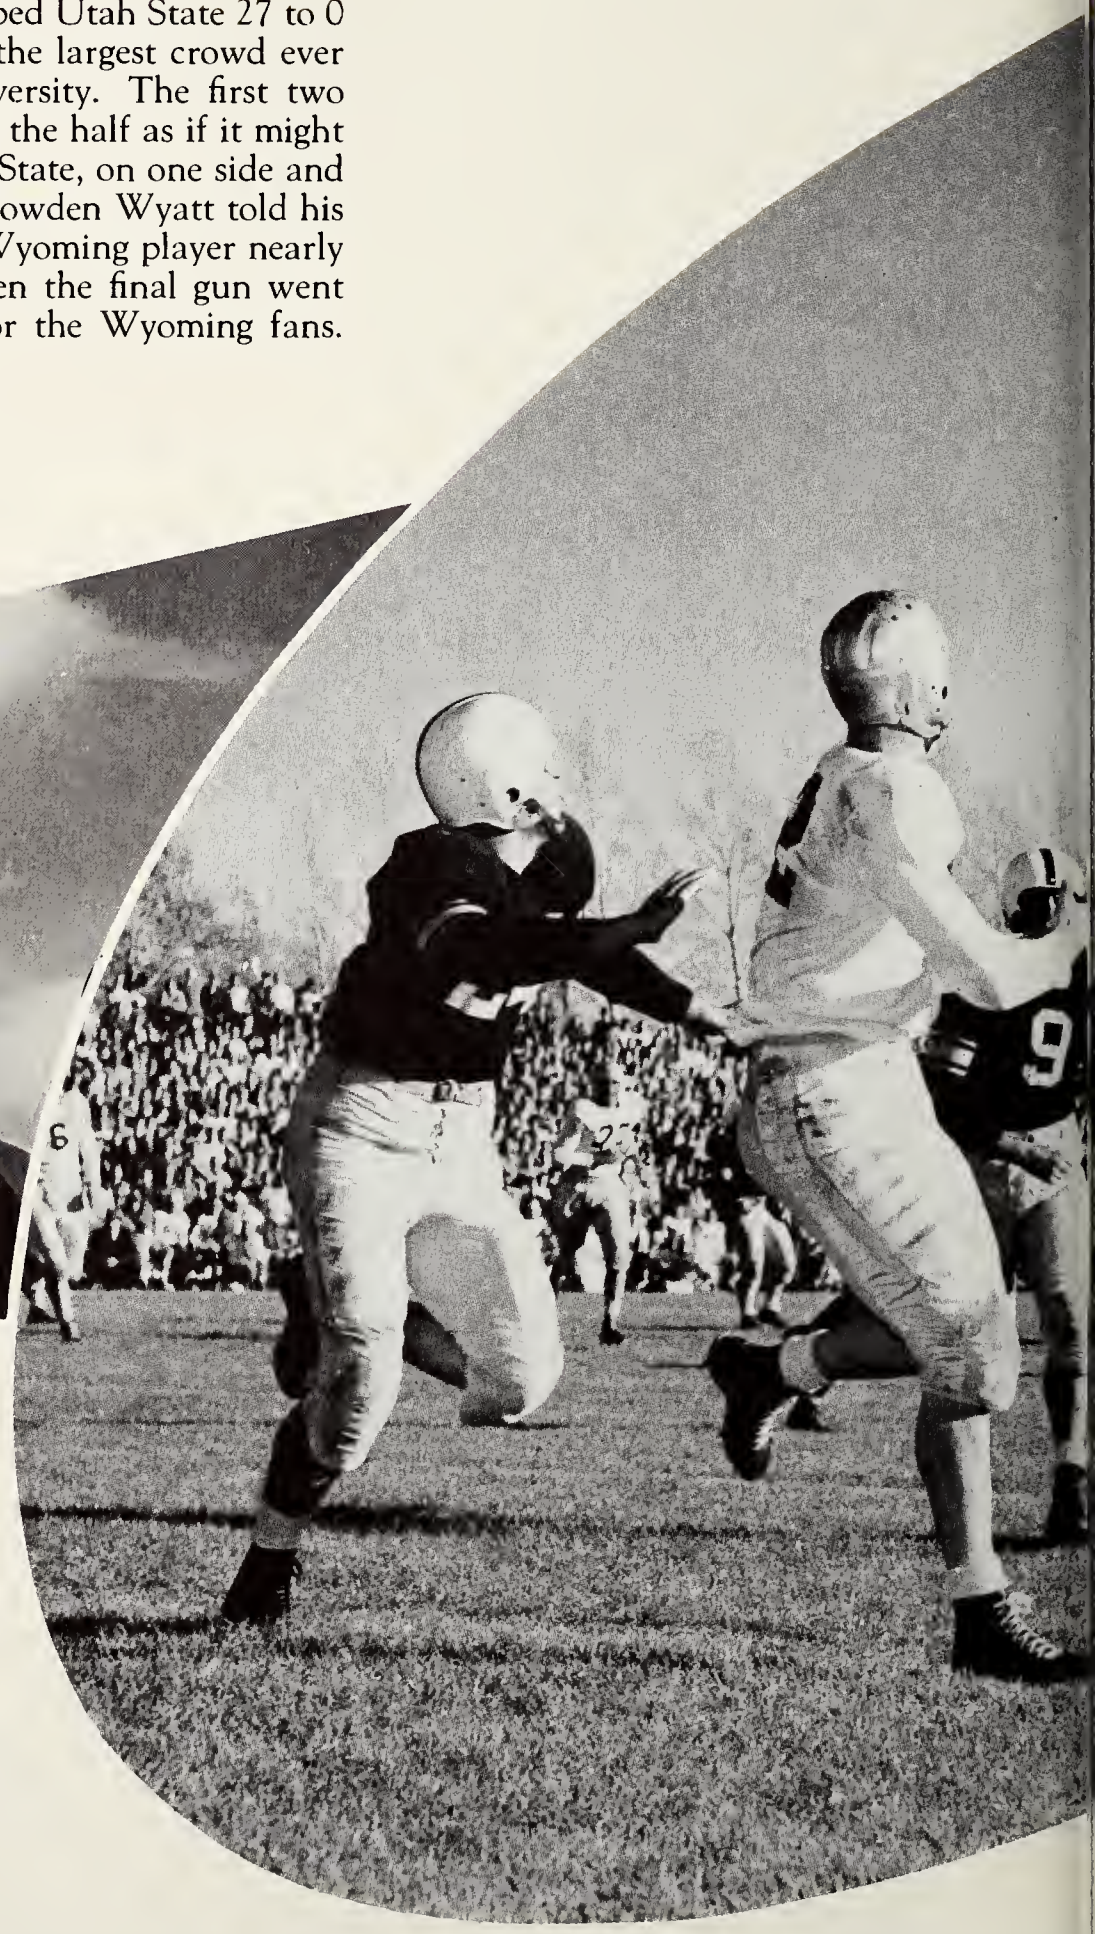
football

Paced by Sonny Jones, Wyoming swamped Utah State 27 to 0 before a crowd of over 8,000 persons, the largest crowd ever to attend a football game at the University. The first two quarters were scoreless and it looked at the half as if it might be a standoff with Jay Van Noy, Utah State, on one side and Jones on the other. Whatever Coach Bowden Wyatt told his charges at halftime worked wonders. Wyoming player nearly perfect ball in the third quarter. When the final gun went off, it ended a perfect Homecoming for the Wyoming fans.

Freshman Coach, Bailey



Wyoming's loaded Cowpokes ran roughshod October 5th, to hand Colorado State its worst defeat in history with a final score of 103 to 0. On September 17th they beat the Idaho State College boys at Pocatello with a score of 58 to 13. September 24th they took the University of New Mexico 41 to 14.

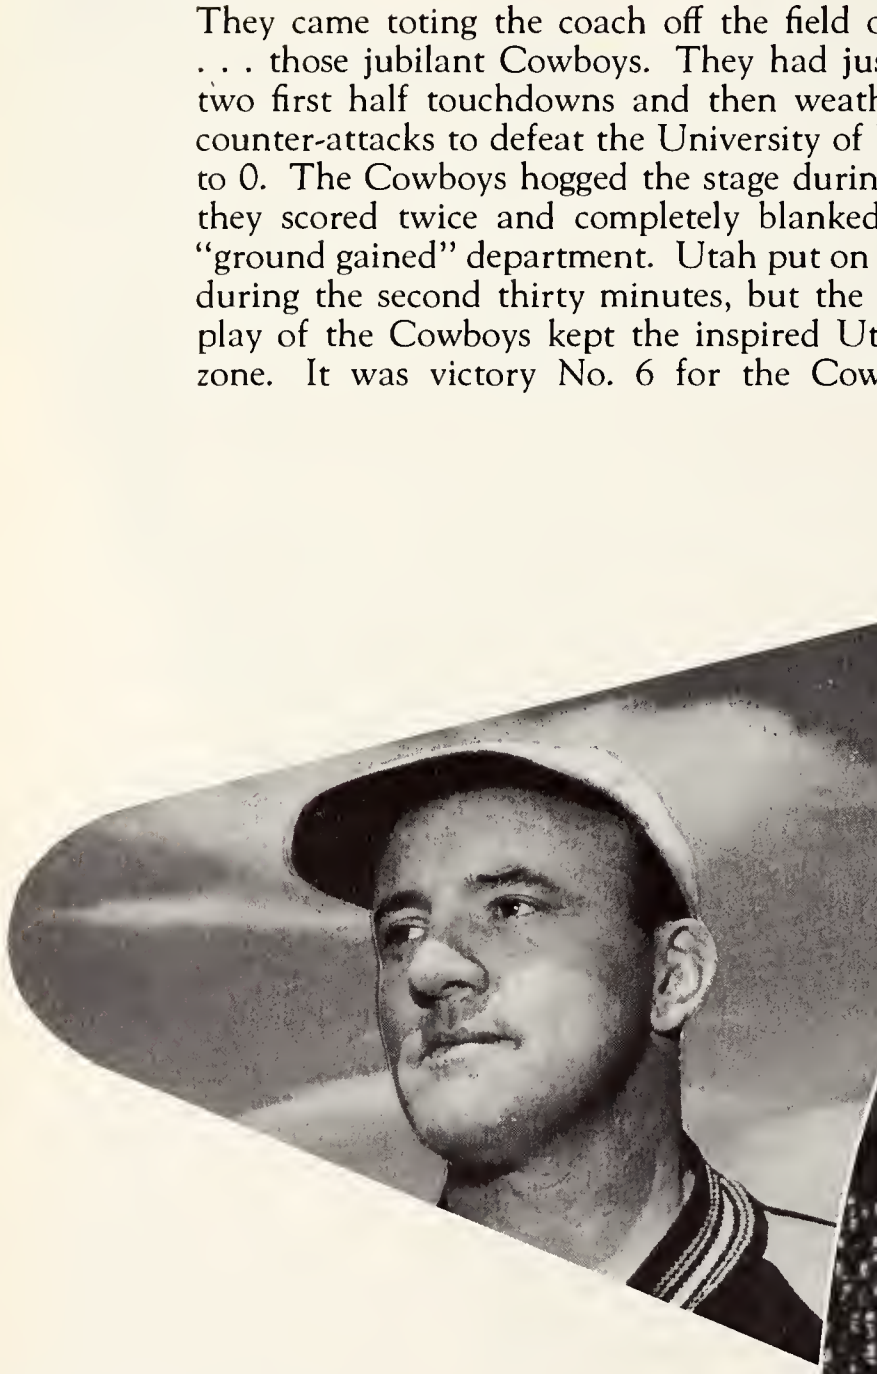
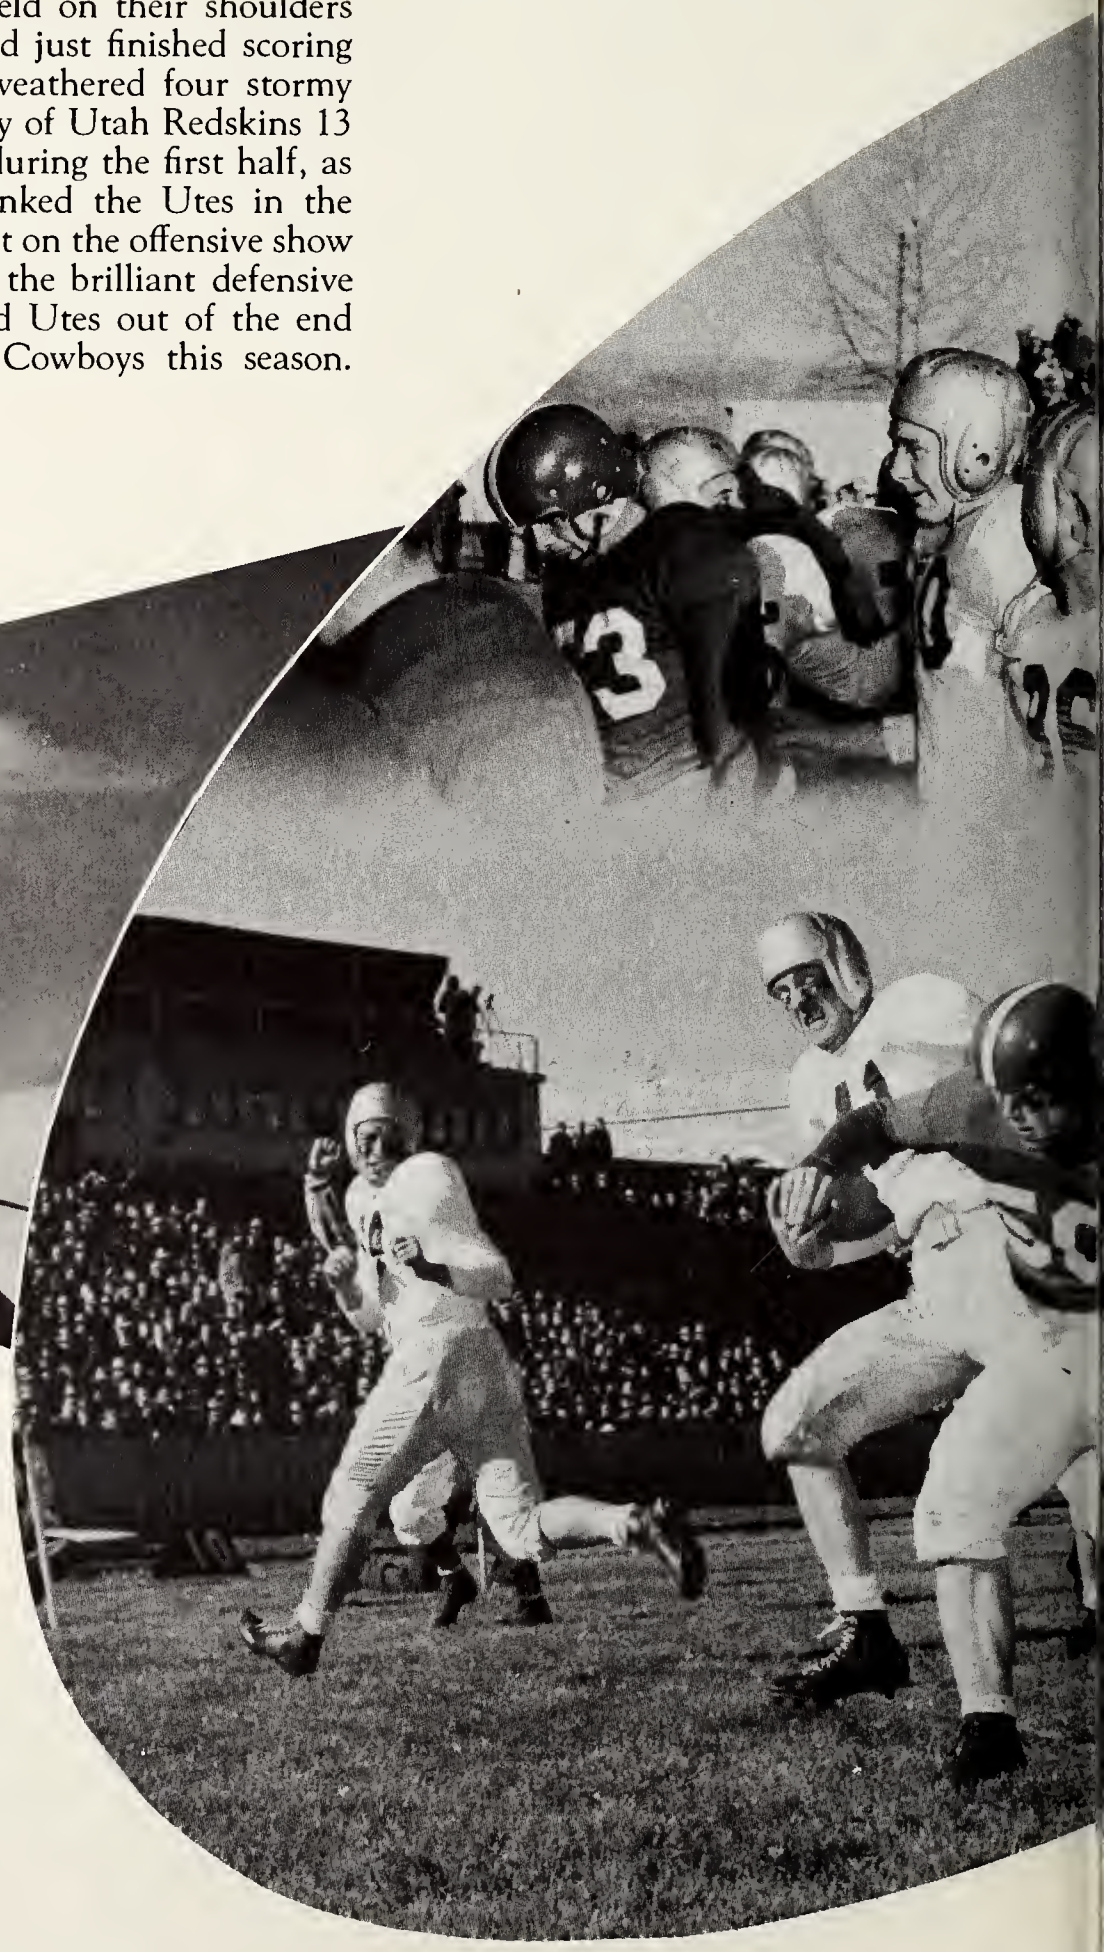
football

They came toting the coach off the field on their shoulders . . . those jubilant Cowboys. They had just finished scoring two first half touchdowns and then weathered four stormy counter-attacks to defeat the University of Utah Redskins 13 to 0. The Cowboys hogged the stage during the first half, as they scored twice and completely blanked the Utes in the "ground gained" department. Utah put on the offensive show during the second thirty minutes, but the brilliant defensive play of the Cowboys kept the inspired Utes out of the end zone. It was victory No. 6 for the Cowboys this season.



Backfield Coach, Coffman



Wyoming took the back seat for the first time November 12th when they met Baylor at Waco, Texas and lost to them 32 to 7. Superior speed and brilliant passes by the Bears led to the defeat, although the game was much closer down on the field than the score indicated. October 1st we took the Colorado Aggies 8 to 0.

Let's go Pearce!

football

October 29th saw B.Y.U. become the 7th victim of the Cowboys with a final score of 45 to 0. Although a morning-long snowstorm left a three-inch blanket on the field and delayed the opening kickoff, it failed to stop the relentless power of the Cowboys who scored five of their touchdowns on the turf that was soggy as a bowl of cereal. The two other tallies came on a blocked kick and a forward pass. The subs scored the last two touchdowns in one and a half minutes before the final gun. It was the last game to be played on Corbett field. Next year will find the "Pokes" in a new stadium.

Assistant Head Coach, Cafego

Before an all-time record football turnout in Denver Thanksgiving day, the Cowpokes wound up their successful season with a victory over D. U. 25 to 6. At the finish, more than 8000 loud and happy Wyoming fans stood in a deafening salute to their Cowboys and Coach Bowden Wyatt.

basketball

This basketball section is dedicated to those outstanding players of Wyoming that are graduating this year. Included in the group are John Pilch, Arnold Flinn, Keith Bloom, "Spook" Larson, Loy Doty and Jerry Reed. With the exception of Reed, who came here in 1947 from Emmett, Idaho, these boys have all spent their four years at Wyoming. They have all been outstanding ball players and their loss will be a great one to say the least. In addition to being named All - American, John Pilch is included in the 1949-50 edition of Who's Who among the students.

Ev Shelton, Coach

For the past ten years, Wyoming has been very proud to claim Ev Shelton as its basketball coach. Since coming to this campus, Shelton has laid claim to five conference crowns and the staff of this book sincerely hopes we have a sixth one added before this book goes to press. Twice the Cowboys have placed second in the Rocky Mountain League. In 1943 his squad won the national championship. Shelton's coaching career began way back in 1923. In his twenty-five years of making some of the nation's top ball players, he has won twenty championships for his schools.

Doty gets boost from Utah player.

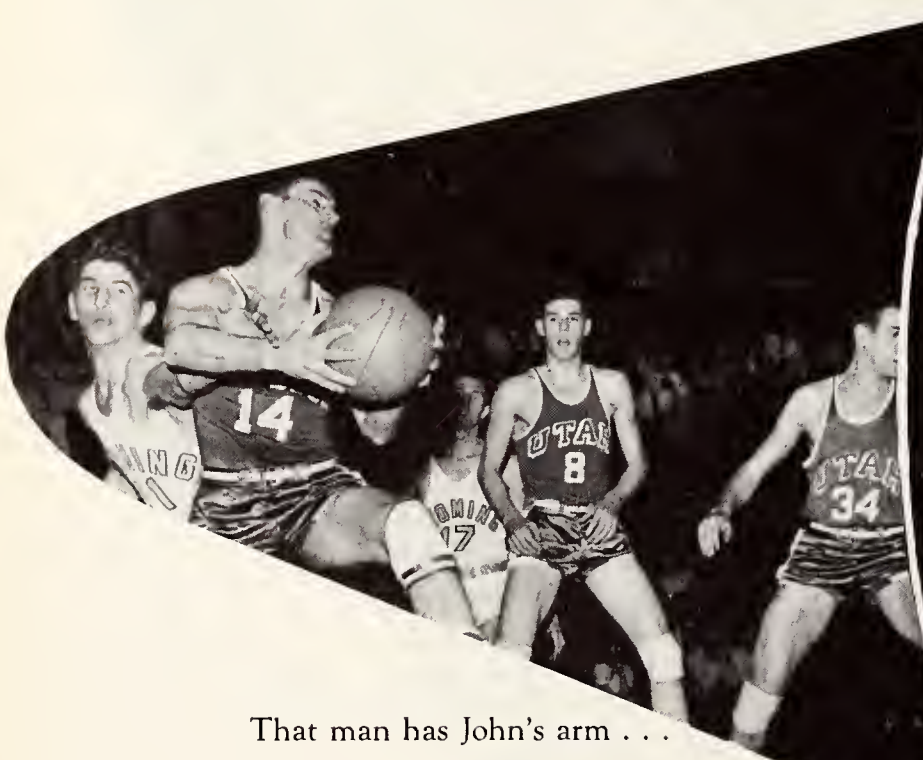
Utah got into the picture but failed to stop Pilch from controlling the rebound.

Keith Bloom goes in for a lay-up against Utah.

"Spook" Larson tries one while Pilch waits.

basketball

The Wyoming Cowboys brought to a close the 1949-50 season by defeating the Colorado Aggies quintet 50 to 41. The Cowboys, after having their ups and downs, tied for second place in Conference play. This tilt marks the end of college play at the half acre for six graduating seniors. Come on you Sophomores.



That man has John's arm . . .

Who knows what Ev Shelton, the builder of champions, will do next? This was the question rumbling through the minds of some 5400 Wyoming fans, as the watched Ev start three Sophomores, a Junior, and the old reliable John Pilch. This apparently was the spark the Punchers needed, for they then proceeded to drub the D. U. Pioneers 61-39, after dropping three previous games to the Hilltoppers. The Punchers were never pressed from the opening minutes to the end, due to the spark and fire of the impetuous Sophomores.

Reed pulls the ball down for Wyoming.

On a fast break Larsen goes up high and dunks in two points.

Hughes tries unsuccessfully to block a D. U. shot.

Again D. U.'s center breaks through to control the ball.

Coach Ev Shelton had the able assistance of Leroy Pearce and John Kosich in guiding the Freshman Basketball team. These two men who were members of the 1949 Skyline Six Championship football team, showed their versatility by not only being excellent football players, but also being capable basketball coaches.

Back in the year 1914 the University of Wyoming entered into inter-school competition in Wrestling. The Punchers won their first Conference Championship in 1937. Through the diligent and tireless efforts of coach Ev Lance for the past 15 years, the Cowboys have compiled quite a record. They placed second in the Conference in 1941, 47, 48, and 49. The Puncher wrestling team received quite a blow this year in losing Lewis Holland through an eligibility technicality. Lewis is considered one of the best men in inter-collegiate wrestling. Despite this loss the Puncher team came through to win the 1950 Skyline Six Championship.

When the Punchers won the Skyline Six title they emerged with five individual champions. George Kelley, Robert Morris, Frank Stray, Robert Mason and Dewey McConnel all walked away with individual honors. All of these men will be back next year and will be aided by a host of promising Freshmen and Sophomores.

Coach Jack Alford

The Wyoming Cowboys golf team left a lot to be desired, as shown by their season record. Coached by Jack Alford and Captained by Leo Kottke, their record was six defeats, no wins and no ties. Wyoming piled up 48.5 points to the rather impressive 113.5 points gathered by their opponents.

tennis

Wyoming had one of its best tennis teams in its history last season when they copped second place in the conference. Competing in conference play, against a strong BYU aggregation, the Cowpokes managed to win the doubles and lost the singles in the semi-finals. Paced by Weatherill and Lynch, an outstanding record was compiled when they won the Eastern Division singles and doubles at Ft. Collins.

The team loses Lynch, Weatherill, Sprowell and Cramer, all of whom made up the first four places on the team.

hockey

Wyoming's hockey team got off to a bad start this year by losing the first four games. Colorado College handed the Cowboy icemen two defeats by the scores of 8 to 6 and 10 to 6. Then Denver University came to town and showed their skill by beating Wyoming 8 to 7 in an overtime game, and again by 7 to 3. At the time of writing two games with Colorado University had been cancelled because of bad ice conditions, and four games were yet to be played — two with the junior varsity squad of Colorado College and two with Denver University at Denver.

Another year . . . another yearbook . . . and another editor and staff ready for the little man in the little white jacket. It has been a pleasure . . . regardless of the many hours of blood, sweat, and tears put in by the staff . . . to give the students of Wyoming this fair publication. We only hope the finished product has met with the approval of you, the students. And now at "Thirty-time", I want to thank my staff for their cooperation and for the fine job they have done.

In tossing my bouquets — instead of the usual coffee cup, chair, table or what happened to be near at hand during our trials and tribulations this past year — I would like to begin with my assistant editor, Miss Barbara M. Jones, more commonly known as just "Jonsie". In addition to sharing my headaches encountered in the job of editor, Barbara put out the Organization and Honorary sections. Many times her terrific sense of humor has chased away the clouds of gloom that were hanging over our little dugout here in the basement of the student union. Many thanks to you, Barb, and good luck wherever you go.

I have often heard the old adage, "School and finances just don't mix!" My capable business manager, J. Frank Norris, Jr., has disproved that statement. In charge of all our business records, as well as the advertising campaign, Frank did a great job. In addition to all his "WYO" duties, Frank found time to become a family man . . . Congrats to "Daddy" Norris.

To my index editor, Susi Foreman, I say, "Orchids". If we gave decorations for work performed above and beyond the call of duty, Susi would be first in line. As well as taking care of the index, Susi assisted in many other phases of the work. And, to top that off, she found time to get her man. You've got a fine woman, Jim!

Coming through with flying colors on the Fraternity and Sorority sections, was Russ Patterson. He did an outstanding job — even to the point of giving up most of his Christmas vacation for dear old "WYO". In Russ, we found a sense of humor that helped to keep our morale high. Any person that can be copy editor on a yearbook staff and still remain in her right mind, must be a terrific person. Just such a girl is Mae Sunada. A brilliant person, Mae belongs to just about every honorary there is on this campus . . . and yet she found time to do the best job a copy editor ever accomplished.

And now we have "Muscles" Creagor, our never-to-be-forgotten sports editor. Bob took over this job without realizing what he was getting into, but just like old Chris Columbus, he "sailed on, and on, and on" to work up a mighty fine section on sports. This was my editorial staff . . . and to each and every one I say, "Thanks, thanks, a million!"

We couldn't put everyone in the job of a staff editor. Someone had to the work . . . and it is to these people I now turn. We started out with Ann Bylund as General Office Manager and Secretary. Although she refused to sit on my lap, she did get her work accomplished. Ann Zuckerman also helped with the secretarial work, and in addition, assisted Jonsie with the Organizations. Margie Millhone — the tracingest gal I ever did see — was in charge of tracing out the dummies. Full of wit and humor, Margie did a grand job. Hers was a tedious task, but one never shirked. Marilyn Bridges, better known as "Breezy", Pat Trimmer, Neal Bate, and Nancy Hunter comprised the advertising staff. Under the guidance of the great "Boss" Norris, it was through their efforts that we have our advertising section. Assisting Mae Sunada with the terrific job of writing copy were Bob Bark, Gwen Edwards, Bob Turner, Laura Bailey, and Shirley Hunt. Carl Kubo, Betty Beresford, and Rita Wick were responsible for helping Russ with his Frats and Sororities. And to Dean Conger, Wes Williams, and Phil Wagner, staff photographers, I say thanks.

And now I wish to say thanks to Mr. Howard Wagner, of the Wagner Studios, for the wonderful cooperation on class pictures . . . and to the Wheelwright Lithographing Company — Max, Lorin and Dick — my sincere appreciation for all you've done.

In closing, I want to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Biggs and Mr. Holborn, without whose instruction I would never have accomplished this job. Also to "Mom" Bane who has kept up my morale and inspired me to carry on. And now I write "Thirty" to my career as editor of the 1950 "WYO", with just this to say, "I TRIED!"

ALL ACCORDING TO THE PLAN

Whenever we hit a surprise effect, like the smiling Indian in this picture, we chuckle to ourselves and say, "It's all according to the plan."

It's fun to see a plan come to life. Last Fall your pictures were black patches on an artist's dummy. You were nothing but blanks in a design — yet the design was there. It is still there, but now YOU have given it life, because YOU ARE THERE. And you are part of the permanent record of your school.

Your editorial staff was swell to work with. Together we planned type style . . . page layouts . . . art work . . . photographs . . . paper . . . color . . . covers, and other details.

We, ourselves, had to fit a lot of pieces together — an air tight production schedule . . . personnel . . . full color reproductions . . . ink, plates . . . presses . . . and a thousand details which add up to a quality job. We even planned the packaging of your books for fast delivery.

It's fun to plan . . . and it's fun to make plans work! So, when you want a publication that fulfills its promises, come to us first so we can help you plan your work. Planning is the heart of our enterprise, and your best assurance of success.
